

B-7: Define and provide examples of automatic and socially mediated contingencies

Given several examples, identify which are automatic and which are socially mediated contingencies, and create new examples for each.

Example	Type of Contingency (Automatic or Socially Mediated)
Felix claps and cheers whenever his three-year-old daughter dances, so she dances whenever she sees him.	Socially Mediated Contingency
Milly dances because she enjoys the feeling of the movement in time with the music.	Automatic Contingency
John asks for and receives free samples from the deli staff whenever he visits the deli.	Socially Mediated Contingency
Theon enjoys laying in the sun because it's warm.	Automatic Contingency
Raoul gets a sunburn from laying out without sunscreen on a warm day.	Automatic Contingency
Larissa is told to leave the store by the manager after she asks for too many free samples.	Socially Mediated Contingency
